Nathaniel and his wife Alicia have dedicated their lives to serving others as self-funded missionaries with YWAM for the past 20 and 18 years, respectively. They have two young boys and a their baby girl born in Tauranga last month.

In his early years with YWAM Nathaniel lead missions teams and worked alongside YWAM's medical ship in some of the most remote parts of Papua New Guinea. Following these years he began to experience his auto-immune diseases, Hashimoto's, Sarcoidosis, type 1 Diabetes, and Alopecia.

Despite battling these serious autoimmune conditions, he remains resilient and determined to continue following the call of God on his life. This year he continues to work internationally on strategic missions projects and is planning to complete his master's degree in spheres of society, and biblical worldview with the University of the Nations.

We are raising funds to help with his ongoing care and further preventative treatment.
